All Three Make Fore!

A Look At Tri-Town Golf

It holds the distinction of being one of the most misunderstood sports and one that certainly makes for more fun in playing than watching.

But throughout Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester, it has an inexplicable appeal to both residents and transients. The simple fact that each of the three towns boasts its own golf course is proof enough, since no other sport can claim that common ground.

And in all three cases, it seems that the makeup of the communities they serve — small, rural, coastal towns prone to summer traffic and tourism — is what helps them thrive.

"We're very much located in a resort area," said John Pacheco, Pro Shop Manager at Mattapoisett's Reservation Golf Club. "We attract people from all over the world and we essentially play year-round. The only time we don't play is when there's snow on the ground."

Like all the courses in the area, the panoramic 5404-yard, nine-hole course at Reservation Golf Club has the tell-tale New England appeal of majestic trees, a great expanse of well-maintained greens, and the subtle connection with nature that most courses lack.

As host for the last five years of the Annual Young Masters International Tournament — which is open to 36 players by invitation only — the course and club have received some prestigious recognition and are now looking forward to the busy Memorial Day weekend, when everyone tries to qualify for the full-scale tournament season.

The private club is currently home to some 200-250 full-time members, including about 50 retirees, 40-50 women, and 30 young players. According to Mr. Pacheco, what is now a thriving golf club was started as someone's backyard hobby in 1895.

"Supposedly this was all part of an estate owned by a person who was interested in playing golf," he said. "He had his gardener make a three-hole course, which he later expanded to a six-hole course. Upon completion, he dubbed it as 'my reservation.'"

Of course Mr. Pacheco claims another legend says the course earned its name in being located next to an Indian burial ground. But neither can be confirmed as the true origin.

What is certain is that the club was incorporated in the early 1920's — when another three holes were added — bringing it to the same layout it has to this day. The course also features an interesting design in offering different tees for the same holes, giving players unique variations in playing the front and back nine.

Such an option is no longer needed at the Rochester Golf Club, which expanded from nine to a full eighteen holes over two years ago. The Massachusetts Golf Association (MGA) regulation course is also popular for its rural setting and quiet atmosphere.

"It's a course that walks easy and isn't that hilly," said part-owner Cliff Chase. "And it's really not that long ... only 5200 total yardage. But here you must play precision golf or you don't score."

The club is open to the public and was incorporated in 1960. According to Mr. Chase, on a good day the course can accommodate some 300 players, but a daily average during the busy season is somewhere around 180. Although it closes down from December 1 through April 1, the course certainly gets ample use during the summer months.

limited to 100 members — also schedules weekend tournaments throughout the season.

However, this year everyone's attention seems to be gravitating toward the first of an annual "grudge match" between the Rochester and Marion Golf Clubs to be held on Sunday, May 16 at the Rochester course.

Joe Rezendes, Manager of the Marion Golf Club, doesn't see it quite that way.

"The winning award is being offered as a tribute to Mert Hartley, who played on both courses," Mr. Rezendes said, pointing to the trophy now sitting on a shelf in his pro shop. "This will be the first year of our annual MAR-ROC tournament, and I hope we can proudly display the trophy here for the rest of the year."

The nine-hole Marion course takes up some 5390 yards and boasts "a Scottish design of sorts," Mr. Rezendes said, referring to the course's rock-strewn hills and inclines.

"I like to characterize our course by calling it a walk back in time," he said. "We don't use any power golf carts and the setting remains very quiet and scenic, with a great view of Marion harbor."

To this day, Mr. Rezendes doesn't know where or when the oft-cited "Little Marion" Golf Club name first surfaced.

The formerly private course was incorporated in 1914 and was opened to the public in the 1950's. About seven years ago, Mr. Rezendes and his wife, Susan, took over ownership of the course and have since worked to maintain the natural setting and landscape.

All three courses had a minor setback two years ago with Hurricane Bob, in the aftermath of which tree branches and debris had to be cleared from the course. But today all are in top shape and have already lured the early-bird golfers to their greens.

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting May 4, 1993

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, May 4 at 7:00 pm by Chairman John N. DeCosta. Also present were Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney, Selectman Paul E. Lambalot, and Executive Secretary Carol Adams.

After approving the minutes of the April 22 and April 27 meetings, the board signed payrolls, bills, licenses, permits and the following outgoing correspondence for the week:

- A letter to Geneveive Waterhouse accepting her resignation from the Council on Aging and thanking her for her years of service to the town.

- Correspondence to various legislators regarding House Bill 2714.

- Correspondence regarding the recent appointments of Shellfish Constables/Dog Officers.

Chairman DeCosta next noted a meeting of the Marion/Mattapoisett/Rochester Housing Co-Op, Inc. to be held on Thursday, May 6 at 3:00 pm in the Marion Town House.

Under incoming correspondence for the week, Chairman DeCosta first cited a letter sent last week from Michael P. Lamoureux, Lions Club Entertainment Chairman for Harbor Days, regarding a request that the Mattapoisett Town Band perform during the Friday Strawberry Festival in July. However, since that time Greg Richardson, Corresponding Secretary of the Lions Club, advised the board that upon contacting Paul Alves of the Mattapoisett Town Band, he was told they could not perform as they would be short some 17 musicians.

A compromise has been reached, however, whereby the Dartmouth Town Band will perform on the Friday evening to help kick off the 10th Annual Harbor Days celebration.

The board next received notification from the Division of Marine Fisheries (DMF) that Pine Island Pond Channel has been designated restricted to the taking of shellfish due to the relay of contaminated oysters from the Mattapoisett River and Eel Pond. This transfer is done annually to help purify the contaminated shellfish.

A copy of the Massachusetts Municipal Association's "Legislative Bulletin" was next sent to the board.

Also from the MMA was a notice that as of April 1, the Association will market selected services for area municipalities, including: parking ticket processing, motor vehicle excise tax service, display advertising for the Advocate magazine, display advertising for the Annual Meeting Program book, and trade show exhibition booths. According to Ms. Adams, the parking ticket processing service would be a great asset to Mattapoisett if Plymouth County decides to no longer support this service to cities and towns in their jurisdiction.

Chairman DeCosta next noted a scheduled meeting of the Council of SEMASS Communities slated for Friday, May 14 at 10:00 am in the SEMASS Administration Building. Selectman Mahoney asked that the Board of Health report back to them after attending the meeting just to give them an update on what was discussed.

resignation from Eleanor Lynch, who is leaving her position on the Mattapoisett Council on Aging which she has held since 1985. Selectman Mahoney noted that the board should send her a letter accepting her resignation with regret and thanking her for her service.

Notification of a meeting of the Joint Transportation Planning Group to be held on Wednesday, May 5 at 2:00 pm in the SRPEDD office in Taunton was next sent to the board.

Another letter of resignation was sent from Scott N. Ellms, who is leaving the Board of Appeals after years of service. The board echoed their previous sentiments and agreed to send a letter to Mr. Ellms stating such.

Joseph M. Galli, Controller at Continental Cablevision, next submitted a statement of Assets to the board for the year ending December 31, 1992. According to the statement, the company's assets totalled $30,349,055 for the period.

A copy of the minutes of the Mattapoisett Council on Aging meeting of April 13 was next submitted for the board's perusal.

Lastly, a request was submitted from Peter F. Kortright, Cub Master of Mattapoisett Pack 53, for permission to use Ned's Point on May 20 from 7:00 to 8:00 pm to hold a pack meeting. Chairman DeCosta said the only stipulation would be that they check with Fire Chief Scott in case they decide to have bonfire or campfire at the location. Otherwise, he didn't have any objections to their use of the property. The board unanimously granted Mr. Kortright's request, pending clearance with the Fire Chief.

There being no Selectmen's Discussion items, Executive Secretary Carol Adams next noted that the board needs to schedule a date to meet with the Police Negotiating Team on the first Saturday available. Since previous discussions with the Police Brotherhood have progressed smoothly, the board agreed it would be an ideal time to present a formal statement of what they would agree to. All three members of the board agreed to meet in Executive Session tentatively on Saturday, May 22, at 9:00 am. The purpose of this meeting will be solely to discuss pending police contract negotiations.

Ms. Adams also asked the board to schedule a Pre-Town Meeting with members of the Finance Committee, the Town Moderator, and any and all department heads prior to the actual Town Meeting. The board agreed to meet on Thursday, May 13 at 7:00 pm.

Ms. Adams next discussed a letter from town resident William Wood, regarding a dispute with Harbormaster Steve Mach. According to Ms. Adams, Mr. Wood owes an outstanding bill of $100 for use of rental space at the town wharf. Mr. Wood has contended that since his space wasn't available in the aftermath of Hurricane Bob and during renovations and repairs being made on the wharf, he shouldn't have to pay the full rental fee.

Selectman Lambalot moved to support Mr.

Mach's assessment of the situation, since everything was done to accommodate Mr. Wood in relocating him at the wharf and to understand his situation. Mr. Lambalot moved to ask Mr. Wood to pay his outstanding debt by May 31 and if the bill is not paid that Mr. Wood lose his space at the wharf by the close of the next business day (June 1). The motion was seconded and passed with a unanimous vote of the board.

Chairman DeCosta noted that new benches have been built for use at Shipyard Park by Old Colony students with materials donated by the American Legion. The benches, made of pressure treated wood, will be used for the first time on Memorial Day.

Before adjourning for the evening, the board briefly discussed the pending decision on Old Hammondtown and Center School. Chairman DeCosta, who attended a public hearing the night before, said many people were concerned about what would be done with the Center School building if it is abandoned in favor of the renovated Old Hammondtown project. But Selectman Mahoney stressed that the board shouldn't offer any recommendations for the Center School building until a firm decision is made on Old Hammondtown.

"I think it would be folly to decide what to do with (the Center School) building right now," he said. "I think we should all agree that it would be inappropriate to make a decision regarding Center School before a Town Meeting vote is taken."

There being no further matters to come before the board, they adjourned at 8:05 pm.

Schmitt agreed that the decision didn't make sense in light of a previous decision against Mr. McCombe by Judge Martin and stressed that he finds nothing wrong with the town's by-law which restricts the storage of material on non-commercial property as written.

Among other incoming correspondence for the week:

- Response from Everett Marder, Esq. of Kopelman and Paige, P.C. regarding receipt of Petition for Certificate of Police Bargaining Unit with the Town of Rochester. Mr. Marder asked that all further correspondence on this matter be addressed to him directly, since he represents the town on labor matters. The proposed labor union is presently only in the planning stages.

- Letter of appreciation from Kopelman and Paige, P.C., for being selected to continue their service to Rochester as Town Counsels for another year.

- Notification from the Statewide Emergency Telecommunications Board regarding the upcoming deadline (July 2) to file a Municipal Plan to put the forthcoming E-911 telecommunications system into effect for Rochester this year. Chairwoman Hawkes asked that the information be forwarded to Harry A. Brown, Jr. for completion.

At 7:15 pm, Officer James V. Wassmouth came before the board to request permission to use the Sippican Rod & Gun Club during restricted hours for training of police officers. This training would involve one day a week (Thursday) from dusk to about 10:00 or 11:00 pm and would be limited to 40 or 60 fired rounds per officer. Weather permitting, Officer Wassmouth would like to begin May 27, or at the very latest the first week of June.

Since the gun club had no objections to Officer Wassmouth's request, he only required approval of the board to use the facility during these restricted hours. The board unanimously approved the request.

At 8:00 pm, the following three prospective candidates for part-time positions with the police department came before the board: Sean Joyce, who has been working as a Special Cadet with the Rochester Police Department since 1991; Thomas Luciano, a Wareham resident who has worked several details in Rochester and has about 10 years' worth of experience with the Whitman and Carver police departments; and Edith Young, who has no police experience, but has worked as a bartender previously and has always been interested in police work.

After questioning each candidate briefly on their qualifications, Selectman Hughes moved to appoint Ms. Young as a part-time police matron, Mr. Joyce as a part-time police officer, and asked to hold Mr. Luciano's resumé and credentials for future consideration.

Chairwoman Hawkes was disturbed by the single motion for all three and asked that individual motions be made.

The same motion was then broken up, the first two of which were carried unanimously, but in the case of Mr. Luciano, both Selectman Hughes and Selectman Murphy agreed that local people should have priority in these positions.

"I really don't understand how you expect to appoint only town residents to the police department," argued Chairwoman Hawkes.

Chief Denham was also upset with the board's decision to not appoint Mr. Luciano. "I certainly don't know what the board's reasons are for not appointing (him)," he said. "And I wish something was said to me before tonight. These are three people I need desperately to fill positions in the department this year."

Selectman Murphy asked whether the chief had contacted the three officers who were previously dismissed in an attempt to change the department into a full-time operation.

But Chairwoman Hawkes stone-walled the question, saying it wasn't the issue at hand and that particular matter is currently in litigation.

Although both Chairwoman Hawkes and Chief Denham explained that it wouldn't be costing the town any additional money to have a larger pool of reserve officers from which to choose, "we've still got to maintain a certain number of hours," Chief Denham said.

A motion was made to appoint Mr. Luciano as a part-time reserve officer by Chairwoman Hawkes, but was not seconded.

Conservation Commission Chairwoman Georgia D. Chamberlain next came before the board to update them on a pending grant to hire a Regional Conservation Agent for both Rochester and Marion. Ms. Chamberlain said that after working for two and a half years on the project, it seems that the towns are 98 percent sure of getting the grant and will be able to hire someone with a degree in Environmental Protection and other expertise in the area of land conservation. The board thanked Ms. Chamberlain for all her efforts and said they were pleased with the news.

The board next considered the re-appointment of Ms. Chamberlain to the ConCom, which was held over from last week at the request of Selectman Murphy for further study.

Chairwoman Hawkes moved to re-appoint Ms. Chamberlain to the ConCom, but the motion was not seconded.

Ms. Chamberlain then asked Selectman Murphy his reasons for not voting to re-appoint her. "I've talked to a lot of people in town," Selectman Murphy said, "and I've made an evaluation of the situation based on what I've been told. The average person said they wanted to see a change ... they would like to see someone else take over."

"I just came before (the board) with a grant that I've spent two years working on," Ms. Chamberlain responded. "There isn't anyone on the Conservation Commission who can carry on, I'll tell you that right now. I think it's very, very demeaning to do to someone who's devoted so much time to the town. I just don't find your reasons very valid."

Chairwoman Hawkes next noted two letters of resignation: one from William H. King, who is stepping down from the Finance Committee and one from Charlotte Strong, who can no longer serve as van driver for the Council on Aging. The board asked anyone interested in the FinCom position to contact them c/o Town Hall (763-3872), and anyone interested in the COA van driver position to contact Josephine Rogers c/o the Rochester Council on Aging (763-8723).

When the board came to New Business, Selectman Hughes asked to discuss the situation with Officer Bert Gleason, but Chairwoman Hawkes would not honor his request. "That matter should come before us through the chief," Chairwoman Hawkes said. "We're going to follow the rules here."

During a brief meeting with the FinCom at 8:30 pm, committee Chairwoman Patricia Ryan informed the board that they were able to place $160,000 into the raise and appropriate portion of the FY 93-94 budget. With the exception of Rochester's $466,000 share of the ORR renovations — which will be the only override — each department was given what they requested, but at level-funding (no salary increases). That left the budget some $190,313 in the black. This would mean the budget could be balanced, albeit by a close margin, without tapping into Free Cash.

The FinCom said they also supported the purchase of a new 1250 gallons/minute pumper tanker for the Fire Department and would be able to appropriate the money without an override. "We feel that the public should see where some of the SEMASS money is going," Ms. Ryan said.

The FinCom also asked if the Board of Selectmen approved giving all town employees — barring elected officials and inspectors — a 3 percent cost of living increase, which would add another $14,809 to the budget, but leave a total of $94,404, which the FinCom would like to put back into the Stabilization Fund.

The Selectmen agreed with the FinCom on all three points, and unanimously voted their support via three motions before adjourning for the evening at 9:10 pm.

Chairwoman Schaefer motioned to appoint Selectman Dougall as the new Chairman. The board unanimously approved the motion. Further appointments are as follows: Chairman, Water and Sewer Commissioners — Ms. Schaefer; Clerk, Board of Selectmen — Mr. Winters; Parking Clerk — Mr. Winters; Carver/Marion/Wareham Regional Refuse Disposal District Commissioners — the entire board.

Mr. Pickles added that this item will be on the ballot for the May 21 Special Election to be held in all three towns.

the capacity to serve multiple purposes. Mr. Pickles suggested the board take advantage of the low leasing rate. The board approved Mr. Zora's recommendation, stating that the lease will be subject to appropriation at the upcoming Town Meeting. They also briefly discussed pending projects on Front Street and the ongoing Spring Flushing Program.

Mr. Zora would like to remind residents to send their meter cards back for billing purposes. He also stated that the Town Hall landscaping will be complete by Memorial Day. This project, Selectman Schaefer reminded the board, began small but has since exceeded the budgeted funds due to a decision to remove the tanks. Selectman Schaefer and the board are requesting donations for the Town Hall Landscaping Fund. A representative of the VFW donated funds to purchase a copper beach tree and resident Abel Roderiques donated $100 to the fund at the meeting.

Brian J. Scott regarding changes to high-speed pursuit and use of said regulations. Section 1068 of the town's high-speed pursuit policy has been clarified outlining the responsibilities of the parties involved. No other changes were made. Section 1071 in the use of force policy was also clarified and expanded to include a definition of force, procedures to follow once force has been used, and a policy that deals with the emotional needs of the officers involved in a use of force incident. Chief Scott requested that the board accept the policies as reviewed by the Legal Council of Massachusetts to take effect as of June 1, 1993. The board unanimously approved the request.

Other business which came before the board included:

- Issuance of a special liquor licence to Benjamin D. Cushing, Post 2425.
- Credit memo for Rochester Post Office in the amount of $242 for water service.
- A letter from Judith McFeeters inviting the board to attend the Presidential National Prayer Day Parade, begun by President Reagan, to be held on Thursday, May 6, 1993.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

I want to thank the voters of Marion who have given me this opportunity to serve our town. Your support during the campaign and on election day is very much appreciated. To all voters and residents of Marion, I pledge I will do my utmost to help Marion move forward, addressing the issues that are before us, with fair and equal treatment for all. I hope that people will come forward to offer their help in solving our problems. We must all work together.

Also, I hope that John Farnham and David Pierce will remain active in town. They have ably served Marion in the past and we need them. I will welcome and seek their advice. Their dedication to Marion is model for us all.

Finally, let me say I welcome advice or questions from any of our residents on town matters. I do not know all of the answers to our problems so I will need the help, support and advice of all. No one person can do it all, everyone must help.

Thank you,
 Albert E. Winters, Marion

Adoptable Animals

Summer's Here ... And the Time is Right

Time again for Adoptable Animals, a weekly section of The Wanderer devoted to placing lost, abandoned and/or newly born animals into your homes via the perpetual efforts of the local chapter of Animal Umbrella, Inc., aptly headed by Mary Lou Kobak (welcome back from vacation) and Priscilla Thompson.

Well, not to steal any thunder from Martha and the Vandellas' big hit, "Dancing in the Street," summer is here and the time is right ... to adopt a furry friend to spend those lazy, hazy, crazy days of summer with (isn't that another song?)

The group still has available "Teddy" and "Midnight," who have been looking for homes for the last two weeks. The pair could serve well as either barn cats or as cuddly home pets.

New kids on the block this week include "Sasha," a three-year-old Russian Blue who has been spayed and is up to date on all her shots. Also available is an all-white female adult farm cat who was found on Rte. 195 in Fairhaven. (Should one of your farm pets be missing, you might do well to call Animal Umbrella, Inc.)

Other new choices include:

• A six-week-old calico kitten with a mottled

Just a reminder: the group is currently sponsoring an art exhibit, titled "Animals Seen Through the Eyes of the Artist" at the New Bedford YWCA, not the YMCA as previously reported. The exhibit will run throughout the month of May with a special reception to be held on May 13 from 7:00 - 9:00 pm, at which everyone is welcome.

Howland Place Factory Outlet Mall
Attn: Nancy Hodgson, Mall Manager

Dear Nancy,

It was a pleasure speaking with you today. I am soooooo pleased with the new format of Howland Place. As I told you during our conversation, I had been to Howland Place on two separate occasions when you first opened, walked through the few stores that were there and left realizing those stores were selling merchandise beyond my budget.

Recently I decided to visit one of your major sales events and was amazed how much your establishment had changed... how much fun it was, and how affordable it had become. I must tell you that 90% of my entire Christmas shopping was done right there between floors 1-3!

I have since been on a personal PR extravaganza telling everyone I know about Howland Place. I even told my sister-in-law about you in Pawtucket, Rhode Island and next time she is visiting, we both will be up. It was a real pleasure. I not only called you but felt that I had to write this out in words as well.

Sincerely yours,

Phyllis L.

"This proposal is an outgrowth of the privacy concerns I have expressed previously with regard to the public disclosure of information by the Registry of Motor Vehicles," said Rep. Straus. The primary purpose of this legislation is to assist individuals who wish to keep their home address confidential for reasons of physical intimidation, stalking incidents and the like.

"I believe individuals should be able to control the unnecessary disclosure of personal information by the state for use by other parties," Rep. Straus said. "This bill will help those citizens."

The bill would give an individual the option to choose whether or not to permit the state to disclose his/her home address. There is an exemption within the bill for law enforcement and other governmental agencies.

The bill has several co-sponsors, including Rep. Douglas Stoddard (5th Middlesex District), Edward G. Connolly (31st Middlesex), John F. Quinn (9th Bristol), William Greene (24th Middlesex), Paul C. Casey (34th Middlesex), Christine E. Canavan (10th Plymouth), Marie-Louise Kehoe (11th Norfolk), Robert Koczera (11th Bristol), Michael P. Cahill (6th Essex), Kevin O'Sullivan (13th Worcester), Mary Rogeness (2nd Hampden), and Sen. Marc Pacheco (Bristol and Plymouth Districts).

School, under the supervision of their teachers Suellen Aiken, Ruth Sundquist, and Susan Warner, are once again involved in landscaping the front of their school. Little by little, students work each spring to add beauty to their school grounds. The gardening activities tie in with the Grade 5 Science curriculum as well as the recent celebrations of Earth Day and Arbor Day.

At this time we would publicly like to thank the following people for their generous donations to our project:

The Mattapoisett PTA for monetary donations, Mr. Leonard Randall for wood chips, Mr. David Peterson for "fertilizer," Dr. William Muldoon Jr. for a lovely rhododendron bush, and Mr. Stephen Gonsalves, proprietor of Eden Gardens, for his donation of a weeping birch tree.

Mr. Gonsalves also spent time with the children instructing and helping them prepare the site for the planting of the tree.

The project is still in need of mulch, perennials, bulbs, geraniums, and ground cover to complete the landscaping. If you wish to help, please contact a Grade 5 teacher at Old Hammondtown School. The students are not only learning more about landscaping and gardening but are also developing a sense of pride for their school which will last for many years to come.

Book Review

Patriarch: George Washington and the New American Nation

• Richard Norton Smith, Houghton Mifflin, $24.95

He fell in love with his best friend's wife. He played cards, gambled, and loved Madeira. His courage was never in doubt, but his judgment often was. He was in conflict with the men appointed to his cabinet, and never had moral support at any one time. He understood politics as theater and was the country's first actor-president.

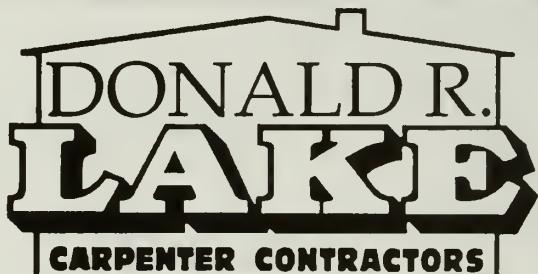

If this sounds like a familiar contemporary president, you may be surprised to discover it is a description of George Washington.

In Patriarch, Richard Norton Smith attempts, where other biographers have often failed, to present the austere, unapproachable Washington as an accessible subject to readers. A scholar on the presidency, Smith devotes his book to Washington's two terms as president with a diarist's fidelity. His attention to the minutiae of Washington's life, down to the length of leather pipe he smoked, will be fascinating to those intrigued with detail and tedious to those who aren't.

We learn in Patriarch that the genius of Washington was his ability to convince people that he was not a politician.

This is the story of Washington under political siege, of how the presidency was formed at a time when this country was not yet a nation. Smith's compelling insights into our first President give us a greater understanding of the man, his complexity, his vision for America, and how the country was literally held together by his remarkable character. Patriarch takes great exception to Emerson's declaration that "Every hero at last becomes a bore." Readers will not be bored with this book.

Marion Center Associates Host Awareness Program

The Marion Center Associates Foundation announced that "Making Space for Growth, Change, and Health" will be the theme for its spring series of awareness hours. The first event in the two-part series will be titled "Relaxation," and will be held on Saturday, May 15, from 10:00 am to 12:00 noon at St. Gabriel's Parish Hall, 124 Front Street in Marion. The event is FREE and open to the public.

"Making space for growth — for new attitudes, feelings, and ways of perceiving events — is an important part of the process of change," said Dr. Arthur Sklut of the Marion Center Associates. "This spring's awareness hours will introduce relaxation exercises and meditation techniques that facilitate letting go and that open up spaces for growth, change and health."

The "Relaxation" awareness hour will be presented by Rich Galvin, a rehabilitation counselor at the Gosnold Treatment Center in Falmouth. A licensed clinical social worker and certified alcoholism counselor, Mr. Galvin has been working in the field of substance abuse counseling for over fifteen years. He will give an introduction to relaxation techniques and will lead participants in relaxation exercises that facilitate the release of physical and emotional tension and that foster quieting, centering, and focusing.

The second awareness hour in the series, "Meditation and Guided Imagery," will be held on Saturday, June 5. For more information, please call 748-2850.

The History of Barneys Joy

Barneys Joy is one of the few unspoiled barrier beaches in our area. Enjoy its incomparable beauty and learn about its colorful past. No one is better suited to lead you on this scenic, historic tour than lifelong Barneys Joy resident Elizabeth Wildes.

Normally, Barneys Joy is not open to the public, so take this opportunity to explore its pristine beaches, dunes, salt marshes and fields. Meet at the Lloyd Center on May 16 at 1:30 pm to carpool to Barneys Joy for the two-hour walk.

Please pre-register for this event by calling the center at 990-0505. There is a $4 fee for Lloyd Center members, $6 for non-members and $1 for children under the age of 12.
